CALL FOR PROPOSALS 2015

The Tel Aviv Global & Tourism Administration is offering scholarships to support research students (Masters and Doctoral) who bring forward innovative research on the Tel Aviv metropolitan area and, in particular, on Tel Aviv's stance as a Global City. Following two successful rounds of scholarships in 2013-4 three Scholarships are offered in partnership with:

- The Foundation for Support and Development of the Construction Field in Israel
- Eldar Group
- The Canada-Israel Group

The Tel Aviv Global Scholarships Award: 7,500 NIS each (approximately €1,700 each)

The TEL AVIV GLOBAL CITY SCHOLARSHIPS, led by Dr. Emily Silverman, of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, serving as Director of the Academic Program of the Tel Aviv Global & Tourism, are intended to support research on a wide range of topics, phenomena and methodologies and could be theoretical or empirical in emphasis. Research should directly address the many aspects of Tel Aviv as a Global City: History; Lifestyle; Administration and Governance; Economy, Innovation and Business; Culture, Art, Literature and Creativity; Architecture and Urban Planning; Immigration and Social Divisions, Nature, Environment and the Outdoors; Education, Science and Research; and Tel Aviv in a comparative, global context.

Submission of Applications:

- An application form, which includes personal details and an abstract of the research project (no longer than 500 words)
- Two recommendation letters, one of which must be from the student's research supervisor. The letters must clearly indicate that the proposal is a part of studies towards an academic degree (Masters thesis or PhD dissertation)
- Curriculum Vitae

The application should be mailed to: findler_y@mail.tel-aviv.gov.il
To download an application form Google 'Tel Aviv Research Portal'

The selected proposals will be publicly announced on Monday, June 22nd, 2015.
Applications are examined by a panel of at least four judges.

PROPOSALS MUST BE SUBMITTED IN FULL NO LATER THAN TUESDAY, MAY 19TH, 2015

Tel Aviv – A Beta Site for Research

If you are in the process of collecting data for research regarding Tel Aviv, Tel Aviv Global & Tourism will connect you with the relevant units and departments of the Tel Aviv-Yafo Municipality, with their vast data archives of the City.

Think of a topic worthy of research and possible data that would be appropriate for such research; then come to us. We will make every effort possible to connect you with data and other information to facilitate such research.

Tel Aviv and its metropolitan area are a prime example of a Global City, while also uniquely Israeli. With that, Tel Aviv is an ideal site for research about all dimensions of urban life in the era of globalization.
