Dear Residents and Business Owners,
Works by the Tel Aviv-Yafo Municipality to lower Dizengoff Square and restore it to street level, carried out by Ahuzot HaHof, are about to begin.

Dismantling Dizengoff Square

Works to dismantle the square will be begin on Sunday, January 8, 2017, and are expected to last 10 days.

The works will be carried out on Dizengoff St., in the section between Frischmann St. and Bar Kokhva St. During that period, the street will be closed to vehicular traffic and to parking when coming from all directions.

General traffic arrangements that will be in effect during that period:

- On Tuesday, January 3, 2017, the curbs will be painted red and white in the area where the works will be carried out
- Pedestrians will continue to have safe access, including in the affected areas
- Driving and parking on the streets adjacent to Dizengoff St. will be permitted in accordance with the changes to the traffic arrangements
- It is advisable to use alternative routes
- Starting on Sunday, January 8, 2017, at 22:00 and until Sunday, January 22, 2017, at 5:00, public transportation on Dizengoff St. will be diverted to adjacent streets
- Traffic updates can be found on the Dan Bus Company website – www.dan.co.il, and the Moovit app
- The works will be carried out during the day and at night

A look to the future...

The works to revamp Dizengoff Square will begin on Sunday, January 22, 2017, and last for approximately a year.

The project includes the upgrade of underground infrastructures, the repair of roads and sidewalks, the paving of a bike path, landscape development and gardening, and the installation of Yaacov Agam's sculpture in the middle of the square.

Traffic arrangements during the square renewal project:

- Dizengoff St. will be reopened to vehicular traffic on Friday, January 20, 2017, apart from public transportation which will be reinstated along its regular routes starting on January 22, 2017
- The works will be carried out Sunday to Thursday, from 7:00 to 23:00
- Advance notice will be given should nighttime works or temporary water and electricity suspensions be necessary
